Stand Tall Amongst the Competition

Be ahead of the curve and be a part of the prestigious, International Annual Report Design Awards (IADA). With our great success in the past years, it is time for another round of this awards.

This awards event is to celebrate, and reward, the very best in aesthetic and artistic design of annual reports, worldwide. We also accept Environmental, Social and Governance Report (ESG Report) for entry in view of the increasing awareness of corporate sustainability. IADA is open to all creative units as well as commissioning companies and organisations.

Judged by highly respected experts from world-renowned design institutes and houses, winning at IADA means you and your work are truly world class.

Success at IADA could be your single biggest marketing tool to help retain, and capture, new clients. Don't miss this opportunity to be recognized and rewarded for your achievements.

Entry deadline is 30 September 2020

The judges

IADA judges are highly respected experts from renowned design institutes and design houses. They form an independent judging panel to evaluate the works of the entrants and to recognise the most creative works as award winners.

Judging process

The judging process will be in October 2020 by the independent judging panel.

During the process, the panel assesses each annual report individually and rates them from their professional point of views. The top three design works are then awarded the Gold, Silver and Bronze Awards in each classification by industry. The best design works in each classification amongst the Gold Awards are awarded the Diamond Award. The "Best of the Best" Winner is the very top design work, overall amongst the entrants.

IADA is “The International Annual Report Design Awards”.

Our mission is to recognize and praise the best in annual report design work with the ultimate goal of pushing the boundaries of annual report creativity to the utmost.
