2021 Call for Entries

Be ahead of the curve and take part in the prestigious International Annual Report Design Awards (IADA) 2021.

This awards event celebrates the very best in the design of annual reports worldwide.

In view of the increasing awareness of corporate sustainability, as well as company reports we also invite submissions in the Environmental, Social, Governance and Sustainability categories.

Entries are welcomed from commissioning companies and organisations in addition to all creative units.

Judging is by highly respected experts from internationally renowned design houses and institutes and an award from IADA means you and your work are rated truly world class.

Success at IADA can be an excellent marketing tool to help capture and retain new clients. Don't miss this opportunity to be recognised and rewarded for your achievements.

Entry deadline is 23 July 2021

The judges

IADA judges are highly respected experts from renowned design institutes and design houses. They form an independent judging panel to evaluate the works of the entrants and to recognise the most creative works as award winners.

Judging process

Judging by the independent panel will take place in August 2021.

During the process, the panel assesses each annual report individually and rates them from their professional point of view. The top three design works are then awarded the Gold, Silver and Bronze Awards in each classification by industry. The best design works in each classification amongst the Gold Awards are awarded the Diamond Award. The "Best of the Best" Winner is the very top design work, overall amongst the entrants.

IADA is “The International Annual Report Design Awards”

Our mission is to recognise and praise the best in annual report design work with the ultimate goal of pushing the boundaries of annual report creativity to the utmost.
